

Traumatic Brain Injury Lab (TBI Lab)

The Traumatic Brain Injury Lab investigates the interaction between subcortical and white matter regions on memory/cognitive function changes in dementia; investigates the role of subcortical nuclei and white matter integrity on susceptibility to medical interventions (e.g., elective surgery). We publish papers on both aims. We also publish papers associated with structural imaging methodology.